Exhibitor Opportunities

Boost your brand's visibility and make valuable connections with members of the Connecticut Society of CPAs (CTCPA) through our flagship annual networking and educational event.

Our highly respected members serve as decision-makers for their organizations and strategic advisors for their clients, holding significant influence over many purchasing and investment choices.

To enhance this opportunity, each exhibitor will be partnered with a dedicated CTCPA member to facilitate relationship building with as many attendees as possible.

Why market to Connecticut CPAs?

CTCPA members are trusted business advisors who help individuals, businesses, and other organizations plan for and reach their financial and strategic goals. From the smallest start-up to the largest governmental agency, accounting professionals play influential roles in every industry.

By marketing to members of the CTCPA, you'll reach leaders with titles including tax, audit, or consulting partner, senior manager, manager, or supervisor; CFO; corporate controller; president; VP finance; internal auditor; financial analyst; forensic accountant; and many more.
