

2021 CTCPA Annual Meeting

Featuring Keynote Speaker

Mauro F. Guillén

Author of "2030: How Today's Biggest Trends Will Collide and Reshape the Future of Everything"

Monday, May 10 • 9:00-10:30 a.m. • Virtual Program

Join an elite group of Connecticut businesses as a sponsor of our flagship event, the CTCPA Annual Meeting, which will once again be a virtual program free to members to allow anyone and everyone to join together and celebrate the profession and our exceptional CTCPA members.

Don't miss keynote speaker Mauro F. Guillén, author of "2030: How Today's Biggest Trends Will Collide and Reshape the Future of Everything." Professor Guillén is one of the most original thinkers at the Wharton School, where his presentation on global market trends has become a permanent feature of more than fifty executive education programs annually.

Professor Guillén will take us through an enlightening analysis of the fundamental demographic, economic, and technological trends rapidly remaking the world – and now accelerating under the global impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.
